

Hill Park Integrative Medical Center is an established, full-service integrative medical center in the north bay area with a decades-long reputation of providing quality integrative medicine. We are a group of doctors with over 70 years of collective clinical practice that are passionate about what we do and are deeply rooted within the medical community.

For this full-time position, we are seeking an experienced and motivated clinician with depth in practicing integrative medicine. Our ideal candidate has the ability to provide thorough naturopathic family medicine care and can complement our team with a specialty such as integrative oncology, pediatrics, physical medicine with prolotherapy, chronic complex illness, and/or regenerative therapies.

We currently have a high need for integrative oncology support with a preference towards a FABNO, though applicants with residency training and/or several years of integrative oncology practice are welcome.

Our unique private practice setting provides rewarding, individualized, connected, and effective medical care. We have an expansive natural pharmacy with on-site herbal medicine-making (we produce our own tinctures/glycerites/topicals), full service lab, advanced IV services, and full administrative support from our seasoned and committed staff.

Hill Park is located in Sebastopol — a progressive, educated, affluent community that values alternative medicine, local agriculture, and our beautiful landscapes nestled between the ocean and redwoods. Excellent local schools include renowned charter or private Waldorf, and many options for Montessori, nature-based, private, and public schools.

We offer a competitive contract that provides the opportunity for a financially rewarding practice. Internal referrals, a robust online presence, and a large publication database will help build your practice while you establish yourself in the community. We are open to discussing a telemedicine position with the right match.

Although our highest need is for a naturopathic doctor, we are also interested in solid practitioners of physical medicine, nutrigenomics, and like-minded colleagues in general. We welcome all inquiries.

Please submit your resume and letter of interest to sharon@hpimc.com.